SERVICE LINE CHOICE

This year, Compass is offering the following consulting services - Board Development, Funding Strategy, Strategic Alignment, and Strategic Partnerships & Collaborations.

Please check ONLY ONE service line below, and then on the following pages, be as specific as possible in describing the project scope, objectives, challenges, and activities involved. This project will be staffed with volunteers - many of whom have full-time jobs. The more specific you are about the project you need, the more successful the project will be. Please try to narrow your request to a single project that can be accomplished in the amount of time available.

We realize you may need help in more than one area. However, you can only select one service line per year. If you aren't sure which is most important, please contact Julie Walther (jwalther@compasschicago.org) to discuss.

32. Board Development

The goal of a Board Development project is to improve board effectiveness and engagement to sustain a high performing board. Compass can provide an objective evaluation of board operations. The team will then help the Board build a solid foundation of governance, recruitment, training, committee structures, and meeting and committee practices. Compass helps the Board develop an appropriate style given its current membership and organizational needs, along with best practices for Board operations.

33. Funding Strategy

Strategic planning and strong governing boards drive funding strategies. Therefore, we require Funding Strategy clients to have a Strategic Plan in place and a strong governing board. Funding strategy projects begin with an assessment of current revenue sources and revenue-generation methods. The team then reviews alternative revenue sources as well as opportunities with existing targets and sources. Compass can also evaluate earned income ideas.

34. Strategic Alignment

Successful nonprofits have a clear understanding of their strategic goals so the entire organization is aligned and working towards those goals. Compass helps clients examine their mission, vision, programs, targeted beneficiaries, desired changes, strategic objectives and supporting activities to understand how to achieve the greatest impact. Strategic alignment projects also look, at a high level, for alignment between the allocation of financial/staff resources and strategic priorities. The exact focus of individual projects varies depending on each client's needs and situation. The result will be a plan to improve the organization's strategic alignment and potential for success.

No

35. Strategic Partnerships and Collaborations

To leverage expertise and make more efficient use of resources, many nonprofits consider partnering with other organizations as a means to identify complementary strengths and best practices to better fulfill a common mission. For nonprofits interested in options that involve combining resources with another nonprofit, Compass will assist in assessing the value and appropriateness of strategic partnerships or collaborations. Financial and cultural issues will be considered. Compass will recommend potential actions for the board and senior management to consider, along with an analysis of the resulting implications for all organizations involved.
