

Thought Partner and On Demand Consulting Programs Spring 2020

In response to the Covid-19 crisis, Compass is rolling out new, short-term pro bono services focused on the needs that nonprofits have right now and enabling business professionals to support them. Here are descriptions of the new programs followed by links for nonprofits and business professionals in all three Compass cities.

Thought Partner

Nonprofit Executive Directors are facing urgent decisions regarding programming, staffing, and finances. Compass is recruiting seasoned business professionals to help nonprofit leaders think through challenges, discuss options, consider actions, and serve as a trusted ear. In a confidential setting, this connection provides an opportunity for nonprofit leaders to brainstorm ideas and consider solutions with an experienced, objective person on a one-time or an ongoing basis.

On Demand Consulting Projects

The pro bono On Demand Consulting Projects aim to address a single issue and provide information or options to nonprofit clients in two to six weeks. Clients will be connected to an individual, or small team, with the relevant experience to understand the nonprofit's challenge quickly and provide a tailored product to meet its needs.
